Dear Parent/Carer

It was really lovely to start the week with lots of positive conversations with parents coming in and out of their parent consultation meetings. Most of the children seemed to be going home smiling, although some may have been due to relief! If you were not able to make an appointment this week, please speak to the teachers directly to arrange a convenient time.

We celebrated 100 days of school on Wednesday, with the children completing lots of different maths challenges and activities around the number 100. Blackbirds showed some great thinking around rectilinear shapes and Year 5 were planning interesting outings and celebrations with set budgets.

Year 1 enjoyed a visit to St Andrew's church yesterday, with one child so impressing the vicar she suggested he receive a golden certificate this morning for the thoughtful and insightful questions he asked. As ever, they behaved so well and were such a credit to the school.

I have enjoyed seeing all of the costumes being worn by the Year 2 children today as they take part in their Great Fire of London day, thank you for supporting us with this. The rat catching and soap making seem the popular choices in the activities this morning, although one group seemed to be extremely captivated with the job of pulling down houses to stop the fire spreading, I was a little worried for the wall at one point!

Year 4 were very impressive with their cake sale today, they certainly seemed to have got the hang of how to sell their produce, such great language usage and encouragement for the children to spend all of their money. I am sure they will have raised a good amount for their trip next week.
