Dear Parent/Carer

I have heard the first words from the Christmas Show in school this week, the children are already excited to find out which parts they will have and so I expect costume requirements will be coming out soon.

I enjoyed hearing about the science experiments that have been going on in school this week as part of National Science week, the children have been measuring hands across the school and in assembly yesterday, the children all presented their findings to each other. Such a fascinating range of recording methods and interpretations of measuring. Keep an eye out for events in Cambridge this weekend as part of Science Week.

Greenfinches enjoyed a visit to the library yesterday. They all seemed very excited at the thought of going on a trip and I think it was about half the school staff that went with them! Hopefully it will inspire them and their parents to visit the library more often – there is even a café in there now!

You may have noticed that all of the scaffolding has finally gone, there are just a few drainpipes to be sorted near my office and the roof will be finished. That just leaves the small matter of a new electricity cable into school and a new fuse board for older part of school to be connected up. Hopefully this will be in the holidays, otherwise we may be having some Victorian themed school days working by candlelight and not using any technology!!

Letters to Santa

From 17th November the Cambridge Building Society, in the village, will have Santa's post-box in their store. If your child would like to write a letter to Santa, they can post it up until 15th December. Please make sure your child's name and address is on the letter as all children will get a letter reply from Santa. They will also be entered into a draw with the chance of winning a Christmas hamper.
